

I am encouraging you not to change the current age 60 rule for pilots. In the interest of safety and the flying public, this rule can only be a plus. As a member of the medical community, I see first hand the affects of fatigue. These affects are compounded with age.

People in their 60's should not be required to work the 14+ hours that I know pilots work. Keep the skies safe, do not change the rule.